ISOLATION PROTOCOL:

Statement: Once a horse is identified as having a potential communicable disease the owner or agent responsible for the animal, or the person identifying said animal, shall immediately notify competition management.

If a horse on the competition grounds presents or is suspected of having a communicable disease as identified and enumerated by the USEF in their publications and/or notices, the following procedures will be instituted by the competition management pursuant to USEF guidelines and local laws and/or ordinances governing equine competitions and animal welfare statutes:

- Direct the owner/agent/handler to remove the animal from the immediate competition area(s) to the designated isolation stall located in Barn 6 Stall 1, away from all other competition and boarded horses.
- Competition management will provide a covered refuse container at the isolation paddock and all bags designated as bio-hazard use bags for manure and any and all refuse generated by the horse and/or the owner/agent/handler associated with the handling of or care of the animal shall be placed in said refuse container.
- The owner/agent/handler will be directed to refrain from any and all contact with any other horses associated with the competition.
- Competition management will provide a container of Chlorohexidine Solution or suitable substitute and biohazard compliant supplies as stipulated by the USEF for the use of the owner/agent/handler to disinfect their hands, tack and/or implements and a pan of similar solution to disinfect their footwear prior to allowing them to reenter the competition area.
- Competition management will notify the owner/agent/handler to remove the isolated animal from the property to a suitable veterinary facility immediately and a separate ingress/egress access for the transport vehicle is provided adjacent to the isolation area.
